A RAILROAD RUNNING AWAY. Plunging Through Buildings and Tear ing up The Ground.

Last week representatives of a coal company in Schuylkill county pur-chased a railroad in Oil City, Penn., company in Schuyikili county purchased a railroad in Oil City, Penn, and its machinery, for the purpose of removing them to that county. On Tuesday the work of removal began. The rails, formerly the tracks of the road, were fastened together at the ends when laid, forming an unbroken line. The method of taking up the rails was to unspike them from the ties, then attach horses to the end of one of the line of rails at the foot of the hill and disconnect the rails, as they were drawn down at every two or three rail lengths. A few lengths of rail near the bottom were removed, and then the horses started the whole of the remaining line, nearly a quarter of a falle in length. The ties were covered with snow and ice. The line of rails moand ice. The line of rails moved slowly at first, but suddenly they began to increase in speed until the whole quarter of a mile of rails was gliding down the steep and slippery hill at the rate of forty-five miles an hour. The rail at the bottom, from On Shortest Notice long disuse, was turned up at the end like a sled shoe. The line of iron shot across the street at the foot of the hill with great speed. On the lower side of the street, directly in the path of the flying rails, was Mrs. Henry Case's barn. The rails struck the side of the barn about a foot from the ground. The shock broke the connections in several places, and the air was full of flying rails, some of them being thrown three hundred feet. About two hunthree hundred feet. About two hundred feet of the railroad stayed together. It tore through Mrs. Case's barn as though the building was made of paper. The speed of the rails seemed to have been very litt leaffected by its passage through the barn, for the whole line of iron came through on the other side. When it emerged from the other side. When it emerged from the barn it made directly across Mrs. Case's back yard, narrowly missing the building, but striking an outhouse which it reduced to splinters. From Mrs. Case's it glided into the back yard of the James House. It careened from the stone wall to a chimney on the James House, which it demolished. The iron again parted, one piece flying off to the right and ploughing into the ground, making a furrew a foot deep for a distance of over fifty feet. This closed the ca-reer of that part of the railroad. The other portion jumped from the low other portion jumped from the low roof of the James House to the top of David Lindersmith's three-story house. It tore off the shingles for several feet, when it came in contact with the chimney. This it knocked over, but had met with opposition enough to bring it to a step. About fifty feet of iron remained on Lindersmith's roof.

THE ARTESIAN WELL BUSINESS

The Enterprise recommends that instead of boring experimental artesian wells, the government give patents to any parties who will bore flowing wells. We are compelled to differ with our valued contemporary upon this matter for several reasons. In the first place we don't believe the offer of a reasonable amount of land would tempt capitalists to invest ately adds: money enough to make thorough tests. If any one desires to try it, he can now take up a section, 640 acres, paying 25 cents an acre, and having three years to experiment in. Then, again, no one would want to go twenty miles back from the railroad, and within that limit the government could only give six hundred and forty acres in a body, the alternate sections having been granted to the Central Pacific railroad. There would be difficulties and complications in the way of holding land in case of disputes. And worse than all, in favorable localities a small way, of the evils of land mogovernment will bore one well in date. Interviews with fifty Republicdown far enough to make the tests to do to make him a home. Suppose and two for Sherman. it should be shown that a good well could be gotten in Lemmons Valley for ten thousand dollars. There are sections of land in that valley that would be worth that the minute they were wet. It might be that sufficient water could be got for much less, to irrigate forty or eighty acres. After the machinery was on the ground and the character of the different strata known, the work could be contracted very cheaply. In the San Josquin valley tled out. Miss Clinch is 50 year ld. wells have been bored two or three hundred feet deep, for five and six dollars a foot, and at Battle Mountain for even less. Now if we knew that a well three hundred feet deep would irrigate a quarter section of land, any one who wanted to do so could enter his application under the desert land act, and thus secure his land from any complications, and then go ahead with his well digging. If he got water he could pay the dollar an acre and get his patent. But until the doubts are

ARTIFICIAL DIAMONDS.

It is now announced, and "officially" too, for this time Prof. Markelyne of the British Museum is authority for the statement, that J. B. Hannay of Glasgow, has succeeded in making diamonds. Hannay's process will soon be described to the Royal Society. The Prof. has seen some of the minute diamonds made by Hannay, and he says there is no doubt whatever that Hannay has succeeded in crystalizing carbon. Chemically, the diamond is much the same as a lump of charcoal. However, Hannay has so far succeeded in making very small diamonds only. Whether chemists will ever be able to turn out diamonds of large size is yet a matter of doubt. If success should still further attend their efforts, the commercial value of diamonds will sink to the cost of their. artificial production, and the brilliant stone will lose its place as the first of gems. As yet, the holders of diamonds need not be in a hurry to sell.

THE REASON.

The Independent Republicans are denouncing the nomination of Grant on the ground that it would "bring back the abuses which disgraced his Administration and disintegrated the Republican party already"; and that of Blaine on the ground that he is "the chief representative of those abuses whose objectionable political methods, demoralizing the public conscience, made possible in his own State the wilful outrages of the Fusionists." The Nation says that the public ought to be reminded just now that Mr. Blaine enjoys the miserable distinction of being the one Speaker of a great legislative assembly, who, in all legislative history, has been convicted, on the evidence of his own letter pitifully claiming his reward, of having ruled in the chair in favor of speculators, with the object of being considered a partner in their venture. Yet this is only a small part of what he would have to face in his canvass.

$500,000. This sum can be secured the very day the bill passes. Practic all business men deem the investment entirely safe, and stand in readiness to cubscribe for any amount of stock which may be required. The bill introduced by Senator B. J. Watson of Nevada county, and will be energetically pressed forward to its passent of the region, not only because such a railroad is needed, but because wealthy, energetic and influential men will have control of the enterprise.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Western Union Telegraph Comphlet form on Senator Saulsbury's bill to prevent the courts from is uing dragnet subpoenas for telegrams. The company desire to have the same rights granted to telegrams as is now given letters in the mails. When the receiver of a letter breaks the seal the sw may oblige him to disclose its contents, but the Postmaster, never! If a Postmaster reads a postal card he dare not in court or out of court disclose its contents. The company asks the pertinent question, why should the communication which haste compels a man to send by wire not be covering two or three thousand acres equally sacred? Twenty million patrons echo: Why?

Oregon is strong for Blaine. Interviews with twenty members of one rich man could gather up the the State Republican Committee whole country, and give us a taste, in which met at Salem on Wednesday, shows that every member favored nopoly. Four Men Buried Under An Avalanch

A telegram to the GAZETTE from Franktown this afternoon states that a heavy snew-slide occurred a little south of the town, about 7 o'clock this morning. Samuel Kennedy, Alex. McLane, John Burney and grounds with a neat picket fence. William Foul were buried under it. Foul was found, badly injured. Mr. Tate was with the men above named. He saw the avalanche start, and warned the others. He jumped behind a stump in time to escape. Kennedy has a brother named Joseph H. Kennedy living near Verdi. Four snow slides are plainly visible from Franktown. Foul has been taken to Carson for treatment. He was badly hurt, and just able to speak. The bodies of the other men have not yet been recovered. A gang of men were at last accounts, (3 P. M.) trying to dig them out.

McCullough went back to the cabin at nine o'clock last night and found a robbery had been committed. The tracks of two men could be traced in the spow to Davis' cabin on the shore of the river, about half a mile west of town. This morning information was with the officers, and Avery soon afterwards arrested Lyman Gutchill and John Critaline, who have of late been living in Davis' cabin. Two sacks containing the missing flour and meat were found in their cabin. The trial of the two prisoners was commenced at 3 o'clock this after-

The above offer is genuine, although at first sight you would consider it impossible. We will explain: Since we first established our business here, March 1st. 1878, we have paid particular attention to the buying of Bankrupt and Auction lots of Jeweiry and Watches often buying at some tenth their value, and in no instance have we paid over one-sixth the manufacturers' price. Since starting we have always been able to dispose of these goods in Chicago and through our regular customers throughout the country at nearly regular prices, as fast as we could procure them, but owing to the large number of failures among the heaviest dealers and manufacturers throughout this and other conntress during the months of June, July and August (the time when the jewelry business is stagnant), we have new on hand an immense stock of the most desirable goods we have ever handled, and which we have bought at lower prices than ever before. In order to dispose of this entire stock in the most speedy manner possible, and make room for new ones which we shall continue to buy, we have hit upon the following novel plan:

We propose to give you a list of the most desirable of these goods, giving opposite each We propose to give you a list of the most desirable of these goods, giving opposite each article its regular retail value, and sell to you at the rate of Five Dollars' worth for $1$. In reference to the above I desire to notify my cus tomers that I shall carry on the manufacture of Cigars as formerly, on the old CINCHONA RUBRA premises, and under the old name of J. W. My aim in the future, as in the past, shall be to give each and all my patrons a fair and full equi valent for their money, only asking in return promptitude in remitting the values I have given them at the time agreed. It will be my effort to make my long experience (unexcelled as local manufacturer) more than ever profitable to my customers, by more than usual care in the selection and treatment of the Tobacco, and in nicety of execution in manufacturing. shall adhere strictly to the determination announced by SAN FRANCISCO BULLETIN my firm some months ago, not to employ drummers to effect sales, but rely solely on the merits of my goods. and give all the advantages of reduced expenses to my patrons in lower prices. I shall, however, visit, if possible, personally, or by my former salesman, B. F.
